BEST BRANDS

»Best Brands« are brands that are not only economically and commercially successful, but also trigger certain emotions: brands that shine, that stick in the mind of consumers and are associated with innovation and positive experiences.

Best Brands puts the spotlight on these brands and the people behind them: honouring and promoting successful brand management whilst also offering new, future-oriented communication solutions a strong forum is the aim of the Best Brands College and the Best Brands Gala, which is held annually at the Bayerischer Hof Hotel in Munich and has long since established itself as an annual highlight in the marketing industry. The event was launched in 2004 by the Serviceplan Group, GfK, the Seven.One Entertainment Group, WirtschaftsWoche magazine and the Markenverband (German Brands Association). In 2016, DIE ZEIT also became a partner of the award, followed by RMS Radio Marketing Service in 2018 and Media Impact in 2020. The highly coveted award is meanwhile also presented annually in Italy, France, Belgium and Poland. Further Best Brands Award ceremonies are planned the near future.

The stand-out feature of the event is that the winners are chosen not by a panel of judges but solely by consumers. Best Brands is the only marketing award that measures the strength of a brand on the basis of a representative empirical study by GfK, based on two criteria: the »Share of Market«, the brand's actual economic market success, and the »Share of Soul«, its psychological appeal as perceived by the consumers, which is also an important indicator of a brand's chances of success in the future.

Since 2004, the award has been presented in the categories »Best Corporate Brand«, »Best Product Brand« and »Best Growth Brand«, plus a special category that changes every year.

In 2021, the structure of the award was completely revised to enable us to give a platform to the latest social topics and marketing trends.

As well as the annually recurring »Best Brand Overall«, this year we are celebrating the history of Best Brands with an anniversary award – »Best of the Best Brands« – and therefore putting the spotlight on brands that, from a consumer perspective, have been consolidating market success with emotional appeal for two decades now.

The Brand Excellence Award focuses on a different, highly relevant topic each year. With the »Best Corporate Sustainability« Award, this year it will be presented to brands that, from the consumers' point of view, stand for ecological, economic and social sustainability and are therefore in a position to achieve a high reputation.

But the core of Best Brands has remained the same: the »Share of Soul« and »Share of Market« still form the cornerstones of a Best Brand.

BEST BRANDS RESEARCH STRATEGY

The comprehensive brand evaluation to determine »Best Brands« is based on a detailed study by GfK, which, as well as brand awareness, also tracks the quantitative (revenue-oriented) perspective of the brand's strength as well as its qualitative »Share of Soul«.

DETAILED OVERVIEW OF CATEGORIES

BEST BRAND OVERALL

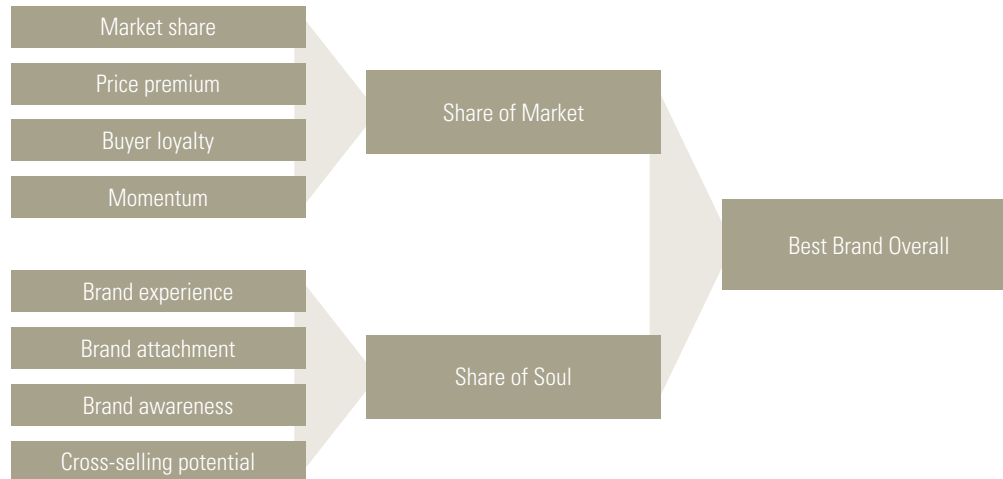

Study design, methodology & causal model

Method: Online interviews

Study area: Germany, nationwide

Sample: 12,000 people, representative of population

Survey period: August 2022

The product brands were pre-selected on the basis of their market share and brand awareness. The brand strength of every evaluated brand was measured by revenue and attitude-oriented dimensions: the »Share of Market« dimension includes the market share, the buyer loyalty/brand loyalty, the price premium and the momentum. The »Share of Soul« dimension includes the awareness of the Best Brand Overall, its cross-selling potential and its brand attachment metrics and brand experience (see page 6).

1. Lego
2. WMF
3. Adidas
4. Bosch
5. Nike
6. Weber
7. Samsung
8. Sony PlayStation
9. Canon
10. GoPro

The input for the individual influencing factors was taken from the GfK panels as well as from the representative survey. The following GfK panels were taken into consideration for the analysis:

- GfK ConsumerScan Individual Panel
- GfK Retail & Technology Panel
- GfK Textile Panel

This year, the list of potential brands up for nomination as »Best Overall Brand« included a total of 403 brands from 50 sectors.

BEST OF THE BEST BRANDS

Study design, methodology & causal model

In its anniversary year, Best Brands is celebrating the brands that have been making an impact in the everyday lives of consumers for years now. Throughout the 20 years of Best Brands, several brands have been able to impress time and time again, by dominating their market (Share of Market) and achieving a high appeal among consumers (Share of Soul).

The Best Brands anniversary award takes into consideration the achievements of these brands in the last 20 years. Within a scoring model, the strength of the brand in the ranking is added to its current performance, which means that the award combines a look back at the brand's previous distinctions with its present achievements.

BEST CORPORATE SUSTAINABILITY BRAND

Study design, methodology & causal model

Companies are now focusing more on sustainability. This is due to the climate crisis and a growing awareness among consumers of the need to take a responsible approach to raw materials.

The Best Brands Corporate Sustainability Award is based on a causal model that combines the three pillars of sustainability – ecological, economic and social – with the company reputation. The award therefore presents a comprehensive picture of sustainability as perceived by the consumers. It compares the highest-grossing German companies with B2C operations.

SEVEN.ONE ENTERTAINMENT GROUP

Seven.One Entertainment Group is a wholly owned subsidiary of ProSiebenSat.1 Media SE. As one of Germany's leading, platform-independent entertainment providers, the company, headquartered in Munich-Unterföhring, has combined all of the ProSiebenSat.1 Group's station brands as well as its content, digital, distribution and marketing business under one roof since 2020. As an agile media company, the Group always concentrates on the needs of its viewers, users and customers and keeps on developing. The focus on local, relevant and live content, and the expansion of the Group's own production business, ensure that the Seven.One Entertainment Group has distinctive content for the German-speaking world.

The Group's own station brands offer high-reach content brands that the whole of Germany talks about. The in-house Seven.One Media is one of the leading media marketers in German-speaking countries and is considered an innovation driver in the ad tech sector. In addition, the Seven.One Entertainment Group bundles all business areas beyond the core business of TV and streaming in the Business and Innovation unit – from the booming audio market to high-quality live events to digital entertainment and influencer business for young target groups.

MARKENVERBAND

In Germany, the brand industry generates a total brand revenue of just under 1.1 trillion euros and approximately 5.2 million jobs. Established in 1903 in Berlin, the Markenverband (German Brands Association) is the umbrella organisation of the German brand economy and, with around 400 members, is the largest association of its kind in Europe.

Member companies come from a variety of different industries – ranging from the automobile, finance, food & beverage sectors to telecommunications, luxury and lifestyle. Members include companies of all sizes, from SMEs to international corporations such as ABUS, Beiersdorf, Hugo Boss, Coca-Cola, Deutsche Bank, Deutsche Bahn, Deutsche Telekom, Falke, Miele, Nestlé, Procter & Gamble, Dr. Oetker, Schamel Meerrettich, August Storck, WMF and many other renowned firms.

WIRTSCHAFTSWOCHE

WirtschaftsWoche is currently the biggest business magazine in Germany. It explains the world of business in all its depth and shows its readers how to use this knowledge for their personal assets and career. WirtschaftsWoche is a navigator and coach in one – with a clear standpoint.

The WirtschaftsWoche group of brands offers you the unique opportunity to address decision-maker target groups in a variety of ways: as well as the magazine, the website and the app, the media brand also offers a wide portfolio of publications, podcasts, newsletters and events for the most diverse of user groups.

WirtschaftsWoche's readers belong to Germany's business elite. They are decision-makers in SMEs, mainly male, 30-59 years old, have an above-average level of disposable income and mainly work in executive roles. Not only do they make investment decisions at work, but also in their capacity as private consumers. Their role as opinion leaders and multipliers – both professionally and privately – make them an indispensable premium target group.

DIE ZEIT

DIE ZEIT features a broad range of topics and themes: politics and business are central elements in the editorial concept, but there is also ample space for all the other issues that play an important role in modern society such as culture and science, technology and medicine, society and education, travel and lifestyle. The high benchmark it sets for journalism and reporting, the paper's high credibility and an award-winning layout are what make DIE ZEIT such a highly valued source of information.

Since the first issue, published on February 21, 1946 in Hamburg, DIE ZEIT has become Germany's most-read quality newspaper. Today, the sold circulation tops 600,000 copies, and each issue reaches more than two million readers.

MEDIA IMPACT

The team at Media Impact are the fastest and most creative 'customer whisperers' in Germany. Together with our cooperation partner Ad Alliance, we reach up to 90% of the German population in print and digital.

As the marketer of Axel Springer and other selected clients, every day we work passionately on providing our clients with the ideal stage for their advertising message. For this, we use the cross-media power of the Axel Springer brands, such as BILD, WELT and Business Insider. We combine this impressive reach with intelligent technology and creative solutions to achieve the maximum advertising impact for our clients. Innovative event formats round off our 360° marketing offer.

We see ourselves as problem-solvers and showcasing experts who not only think in a cross-media and target group-specific way, but also move people with emotional storytelling. Regional branches close to our clients, agile working methods and cross-functional team structures help us to be more of a speedboat than a tanker.
